DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-15, and 24 drawn to a semiconductor ferroelectric device and a method of operating a semiconductor ferroelectric device.

Group II, claim(s) 16-23, drawn to a method of making a semiconductor ferroelectric device.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I, II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The common technical feature in both groups is the ferroelectric structure recited in claim 1 and formed in claim 16. This element cannot be a special technical feature because the structure is shown in the prior art as follows:

3. Claims 1-15 lacks an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over Blom (EP 0 0660 412 A1) in view of Kawai Tomoji (JP.11-286772). Blom teaches the switching element comprising a substrate [15], and a dielectric layer [3], provided with a conductor [2], on a side facing away from the substrate, ..., characterized in that a conductive layer [1], is situated between the substrate and the ferroelectric layer [3], which layer forms a further connection conductor [1], of the ferroelectric layer [3], and the active element [1,2,3], is formed as the result of the fact that the ferroelectric layer forms a Schottky junction [page 1], with at least one of the connection conductors [1,2]. Kawai Tomoji teaches the use of oxygen free ferroelectric material [Technical Problem section, and Means section].

4. Inventions II and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process. In the instant case, a materially different process can make the device. For example, a process in which the substrate is applied to the structure as the final step.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
